

I support satellite radio. There isn't any reason why they shouldn't be able to broadcast whatever they want. Traffic, weather, why would it matter? It's a funny thing, I've heard an advertisement from my local radio station, 103.7 Kiss fm, dissin xm, they broadcast on ch. 21. The FCC and fellow law makers have better things to do than complain about the way we americans spend our time and money. I think you should leave satellite radio programming alone. Sincerely,
Sydney
